Sustainability

Creating durable and high-quality furniture increases the likelihood of long-term use. Functionality and design are both key to developing furniture with a long lifespan. The work of developing a well-made product – and of managing materials and resources responsibly – starts early on in the design process. It is also imperative that the raw materials in our product should be traceable and originate from responsible sources.

Certifications

To minimise our environmental impact and ensure satisfied customers, we have ISO 9001, ISO 14001 and ISO 45001 certification. The starting point for all three certifications is continuous improvement, which is fundamental to our long-term sustainable development efforts.

Of all the ecolabels available on the market, we have identified the two most significant: FSC® and Möbelfakta. By choosing FSC® labelled, our environmental impact is reduced, thanks to the responsible management of the world's forests through sustainable use, conservation, restoration, and respect for all. Our products with the Möbelfakta label meet strict criteria that guarantee not only a good-quality product but also decent conditions for people and our planet.

Agenda 2030

At NC, we aim to work continuously on the basis of the 17 Global Sustainable Development Goals of the United Nations. Through our sustainability work, we contribute to several significant goals that have a direct or indirect impact on our business.

Social responsibility

We are certified in accordance with ISO 45001, an international standard for occupational health and safety. Our structured work environment management enables us to take laws, risks and opportunities into consideration to prevent accidents. We encourage well-regulated working conditions throughout the value chain, thus making a positive contribution to social development in the places in which we operate and have our partners.
